

Life Safety – Be Prepared, Be Compliant

Hilton Richmond Hotel & Spa/Short Pump | November 2-3, 2026

Overview: When you and your maintenance director attend this 1.5 day training, you'll learn how to ensure your center is compliant with the federal, state, and local life safety and building codes. Led by nationally recognized life safety expert Roy LeNeave, this training will cover critical areas for life safety compliance and provide you with practical advice and strategies to keep your residents and staff safe.

Why it matters: This training will help you be survey and inspection ready by learning what the Office of Licensure and Certification (OLC), and the local fire authorities are looking for.

- Remember, OLC is conducting life safety/CMS inspections within 14 days of clinical surveys to assess NFPA code compliance and CMS regulations.
- Local fire authorities or the State Fire Marshal conduct inspections focused on the 2018 State Fire Prevention Code.

Who should attend: This training is geared for both nursing and assisted living administrators, regionals, and maintenance directors. All attendees will be given a full-color study binder to use as a reference tool to prepare for surveys/inspections.

Optional Certification Test for Door Inspections: The program also offers you the opportunity to earn this important certification, which is accepted in Virginia and in numerous other states by fire marshals and life-safety inspectors. Note, there is an additional $100 fee to take the certification test.
